GERMAN GOVERNMENT FALLS

MARX CABINET RESIGNS AFTER CRY OF 'TRAITOR' AND VOTE IN REICHSTAG

Berlin, Dec. 17 (A.P.)—The government of Chancellor Marx today resigned after being defeated in the Reichstag, 249 to 171, on a vote of non-confidence.

The motion was introduced after Philipp Scheidemann, leader of the Social-Democrats, had charged that a monarchist military clique was secretly organizing a huge illegal army reserve and was undermining the Reichswehr as an instrument of the republic, as well as storing arms and munitions in Russia.

The charges threw the Reichstag in an uproar and were denied by Chancellor Marx. Scheidemann was assailed with cries of "traitor" and "blackguard."

It is expected that President Von Hindenburg will ask Chancellor Marx and his ministers to carry on temporarily until after the new year.

PASTORS PROTEST ON MILLS GIRL IN SHOW

Pawtucket, R. I. Dec. 17.—Protests from clergymen and others may halt the scheduled stage appearance here next week of Charlotte Mills, daughter of the slain choir singer in the Hall-Mills murder mystery, who has signed a contract to play in "Who's Guilty?"

The play, put on the stage by the Carroll players, is said to follow the story of the New Jersey crime and Charlotte is cast as the daughter of a murdered woman.

Rumblings of protest following announcement of the play indicated that the stage career of Charlotte Mills was not to be any smoother than her career in real life with all the hardships it has brought her.

STEEL LEADS BUYING IN FRENZIED MARKET

New York, Dec. 17 (A.P.)—Wall Street experienced a "roaring bull market" today as a result of the unexpected cutting of a $200,000,000 melon by the directors of the United States Steel Corporation.

The first sale of U. S. Steel common was a block of 40,000 shares at the "spread" price of 158½ to 160, a record high price for all time, the individual transaction involving over $6,600,000.

By noon Steel had hit a new record high of 161¾, on sales of half a million shares on one-third of the volume of trading on the entire exchange.

Other industrial and railroad stocks changed hands in large blocks, with gains running from 1 to 4 points in scores of issues.

Frenzied trading characterized the

NORTH END MAN SHOT IN FIGHT OVER CARDS

In a rough and tumble fight in his home, early today, following a card game, Dominic Santoro, 35, of 25 Sheafe street, North End, was shot and probably fatally wounded by one of three companions, Michael Russo, 45, next-door neighbor, is being sought as the assailant.

Santoro missed instant death by the merest fraction of an inch, a bullet from a .32 calibre revolver piercing his forehead, directly over the bridge of the nose and traveling three-quarters of an inch, in a slanting direction, until it came to a stop behind the right eye. He is dying at the Haymarket Relief Hospital.

A man alleged to be Russo, and two others, said to come from New York, fled from Santoro's apart

POLICE DISCREDIT WIFE WHO SAYS DR. WALSH IS NEAR SOUTH END HOME

While police received information today that Rum Row is harboring Dr. Thomas E. Walsh, wanted for sentence in connection with the death and dismemberment of Edith L. Greene, a close friend of the vanished surgeon declared he has gone to Canada for "one last celebration" over Christmas.

The doctor's wife, Mrs. Marion A. Walsh, asserted that he walked right past three detectives, who were watching his South End residence, and is "just giving Tom O'Brien a little taste of his own craftiness."

The authorities searching for Dr. Walsh placed little credence in a statement by Mrs. Walsh that her husband is within a stone's throw of his home in Washington street, near Northampton street, South End.

NOT SEEN RECENTLY.

Suspicion that the elusive doctor sneaker out the cellar window of his own or an adjoining house, or used the fire-escape or some similar means of escape, while detectives watched, was expressed by the detectives themselves.

George McCaffrey, patrolman specially detailed to duty with the district attorney, is convinced that

REPORT WALSH FUGITIVE ON RUM SHIP

Dr. Walsh fled several days ago. He has found no one in the neighborhood who saw the doctor recently and many say they have not seen him since the day of his conviction.

Smuggled across the waters of Massachusetts Bay by rum-runners as a means of fleeing without leaving any trace whatever of departure—that is the picture painted in information obtained by the police.

SCOUT SUICIDE THEORY.

Whether he is still off shore or has voyaged to a foreign port is a matter of surmise, if it is true he chose this unusual means of flight.

The possibility that Dr. Walsh may have committed suicide is recognized by the authorities, but they do not place much weight in this theory.

"Dr. Walsh threatened to commit suicide before his original sent and also since the trial," said a friend. "However I do not think he has done so."

"Tom has too much courage for that," said Mrs. Walsh.

Mrs. Walsh insists her husband has not run away. The doctor's friend—who admits knowing considerable about Walsh's affairs—believes he will be back after Christmas to accept sentence and pay the penalty of his crime.

KNOWS WHEREABOUTS.

"I'll bet you could drop a postcard to him right now," said one inspector to this friend.

"Sure, but I'm not telling you," was the reply. "Tom will be back when he gets ready, so you can't kick."

A newsboy, Gerlad Clark, who sells at the foot of the "L" station steps at Northampton street, reports not having seen the doctor since the day of the conviction or the day before. He has sold papers to Dr. Walsh almost daily for eight years.

TO COMB RUM ROW.

The authorities are not inclined to wait in the belief the doctor will return after Christmas or at any other time. Preparations were quietly going on for an extensive search even on Rum Row, for the fugitive.

Mrs. Walsh did not try to conceal her dislike for methods employed by District Attorney O'Brien to keep her husband under surveillance for several days because of a rumor that the doctor might flee.

Detectives stood constant guard over the building in Washington street, under the Northampton street elevated station, where the Walshes have their suit.

"Dr. Walsh is right in this section," said Mrs. Walsh. "He did not run away.

"No; he did not tell me where he was going, but I am sure he is not a stone's throw away. When District Attorney O'Brien sent the detectives out here last Tuesday to watch the house, Tom, my husband that that he could be just as crafty as Tom O'Brien and would show him so.

"Tom positively slept in this house the night before last—Wednesday night. And I believe he is close now, though I haven't seen him since he left the house at quarter of eight Thursday morning," said Mrs. Walsh.

"He walked right by the detectives. I went to the window to watch, and I saw him go across the street and buy a paper and then go up the elevated steps. I don't know which way he went on the train.

"Dr. Walsh took a taxi home from there and got out of it at the curb directly behind the auto of the detectives. Tom came right in and upstairs and slept here that night.

ment before a squad of police from Station 1, under Sergeant Casey, reached the scene.

WIFE IN ITALY.

According to meagre information obtained by the police, the four men went into Santoro's house, located on the top floor, and started a card game. Santoro's wife is at present in Italy and he was "keeping bachelor's hall" for the present, police said.

Early today sounds of loud voices emanated from the flat and later th scuffling of feet and the thud of blows being struck. The noise awakened other occupants of the block but none moved to interfere. Then a shot rang out.

FIND REVOLVER.

A few moments later Santoro's companions raced from the building and neighbors summoned the police. Santoro was taken to the hospital in a police ambulance. He was treated by Dr. Young.

A search of the Santoro flat disclosed a .32 calibre Smith and Wesson revolver, believed to be the weapon used in the shooting, and a heavy calibre shotgun.

FALL, SINCLAIR ARRAIGNMENT NEXT WEEK

Washington, Dec. 17 (A.P.).—Arraignment of Harry F. Sinclair and Albert B. Fall on an oil conspiracy charge was postponed today by the District of Columbia Supreme Court until next Tuesday.

Argument on Sinclair's motion to quash the indictment was put off until the same day, after the presiding justice had found today's docket crowded with other cases having priority.

The announcement from the bench was made after Sinclair, whose lease of Teapot Dome started the Senate oil inquiry, had waited for more than an hour in the courtroom.

Fall remained at his hotel, awaiting a telephone call from his counsel, who mingled with the legal staff of Sinclair in the spectators' section of the courtroom.

The charge against Sinclair and Fall is similar to that of which Fall and Edward L. Doheny, lessee of the Elk Hills Reserve, were exonerated by a jury after a four weeks' trial.

In anticipation of a court ruling upholding the Fall-Sinclair indictment government counsel are planning to ask at the arraignment Tuesday that the oil man and former interior secretary be brought to trial early in January.

New York, Dec. 17 (A.P.).—Three tellers of the Bowery Savings Bank, who had pleaded guilty to stealing $45,915.67 of the bank's funds to "play the ponies," were released on suspended sentences and placed on probation for ten years when they were arraigned for sentence today.

The tells are C. Russell Morton of New Rochelle, Clarence Oliver of Brooklyn and Reginald Losee of Dobbs Ferry.

Under the terms of their release the tellers must make restitution to the bank and for ten years must report weekly to a probation officer.

Attorney Fred G. Katzman, counsel for Nolan, told the court that what he wanted to stress to the court and public was that the girl's death did not result from the illegal surgery. He was sustained in this by Bushnell, who branded Nolan as a professional.

MUSSOLINI WANTS TO VIST AMERICA

DUCE SAYS U. S. UNDERSTANDS FASCISM BEST

Rome, Italy, Dec. 17 (A.P.).—Premier Mussolini has always longed to visit the United States, he told a correspondent for the Associated Press in an interview at his office in the Chigi Palace.

"I have often thought of visiting America," the Duce declared. "In fact, as long as I can remember, I have always wanted to see your country. A people which built rapidly with its own hands such colossal fortunes and formidable power could not fail to attract me strongly.

"Then, my sympathy is greatly increased when I notice that, despite the fact that an ocean divides us, our revolution and the work of Fascism have been more quickly and more completely understood in America than in many other countries separated from us by a few hours' train journey.

UNDERSTOOD IN U. S.

"America's understanding our movement is easily explained. It is considered that your pioneers raised with their robust arms on the virgin soil of America a temple to a new goddess which is the same to which all Fascists have raised a similar temple on the banks of the Tiber—energy."

The recent drastic national defense decrees he said, were issued for the sole purpose of protecting the "productive rhythm" of the Italian nation.

MARY'S LETTER SAYS HE WAS HONORABLE

New York, Dec. 17 (Universal).—"If any more women are going to sue me let them step right up and file their suits now."

Thus spoke Edward W. Browning variously known as "Daddy," "Bunny," and "Cinderella Man," when he discussed the latest suit brought against him by Mary Louise Spas.

Mary was adopted for a few days by the millionaire real estate man during the Summer of 1925. Now she wants $500,000 for the "mental torture" she says she underwent while she was his foster daughter. This torture was brought about she says, by an attempted attack upon her and keeping her a prisoner in her room.

The separation suit of Browning's young wife, "Peaches," will come up for hearing in the little courthouse at Carmel, January 24. He admitted that these suits by young girls are coming upon him pretty fast, and added:

VOO DOO IS LATE, BUT OH BOY, IT'S HOT STUFF!

Controverting rumors that the Back Bay number of "Voo Doo," the M. I. T. publication had been censored by the Advisory Council on Publications, the issue appeared today on the newsstands a little late but replete with sensations.

Because of the delay in getting out the issue, it was announced there would be no other day of sale at Technology.

The cover of the magazine is the replica of a front page of a newspaper, jammed with sensational crime and bad stories, upon which a startled flapper, clad in a scanty-flame-colored evening gown, is gazing. The girl's bobbed hair is standing up apparently in horror, her toes are turned in and both arms raised, while flying through the air are an automotic pistol and a flask.

The frontispiece bears the legend "Back Bay Number" in block letters, while down in the lower right hand corner, the only other embellishment, is a sketch of an inebriated gentleman in evening clothing leaning on his stick and clutching a waving lamppost.

Next comes a full-page illustration depicting an attractive young woman whose negligee is being dragged off by a small dog. The caption reads: "Bosco, the triple threat pup, tears off a yard around end."

MAYOR QUIGLEY LOSES SUIT ON $2,000 NOTES

Worcester, Dec. 17.—Today was another unlucky day for Mayor Lawrence F. Quigley of Chelsea, who was defeated, for re-election last Tuesday.

As a result of the decision of Judge Christopher T. Callahan in the jury waived session of the Superior Civil Court, he must pay $2,000 to Peter Bernardi of this city. In addition, Judge Callahan said a few harsh words to Mayor Quigley concerning his dilatory tactics regarding the suit brought against him by Bernardi.

The suit was for $1,000 on two promissory notes and has been hanging fire since June, with the Mayor obtaining postponement after postponement.

Eventually it was set for a hearing Monday and when Mayor Quigley failed to appear a judgment was recorded against him for $1,000 on each note.

Today he made his appearance and told Judge Callahan he had forgotten the case in the rush of political events culminating in the recent election. He offered a motion that the default be removed.

Judge Callahan replied that if it had been the first time he could have overlooked it.

"I am amazed," said the court, "the Mayor of a city like Chelsea could forget he was a defendant in a case involving a considerable sum of money. I don't care to hear anything further from the defendant. I have reached my decision. The motion is denied."

New York, Dec. 17 (A.P.).—John Tikman Stewart 104 years old, Wall street financier and once Assistant Secretary of the United States Treasury, died at his home in this city today. Pneumonia was the cause of death.

Mr. Stewart, who was chairman of the United States Trust Company was actively in business up until his final illness. He was the oldest of Wall street's financiers. Pneumonia set in only yesterday.

PARIS DIVORCE GRANTED TO HALLOWELL I'''IN

Paris, Dec. 17 (A.P.).—Hallowell Irwin, formerly connected with the United States Shipping Board, has been granted a divorce from Georgeana Sandgran Irwin on the ground of abandonment.

The Irwins were married in Philadelphia on Nov. 27, 1918. They have no children. The testimony showed that while the Irwins were living in London in 1925, Mrs. Irwin declined to live with her husband.

Mrs. Helen Louise Cohne Castle has applied for a divorce from Hug Castle. The couple were married in New York city on Jan. 18, 1923, and have no children.

FAKE BOND GANG ROBS POOR

New York, Dec. 17 (A.P.).—Cashing in on the publicity given August Heckscher's plan for rebuilding the East Side, a band of about fifty confidence men and women from his West have refunded residents of the district of $500,000 gotten in payment for fake improvement bonds, the downtown Chamber of Commerce asserted today.

Harry A. Schlacht, president of the downtown organization which is associated with Mr. Heckscher, said the money obtained under false pretenses represented in many instances the hard won savings of the poor peoples of many nationalities who inhabit the district.

Pie Town, N. M., Dec. 17.—Names because of its popularity with hungry tourists, this community has now reached the dignity of having a postmaster.

TOWN TO HONOR GOLDEN WEDDING OF 8 COUPLES

Portland, Me., Dec. 17.—Eight couples of Milo, all of whom have been married for more than 50 years, will be the guests of honor of the entire town today, when a turkey dinner will be served at the town hotel.

Th couples who are to be honored are Mr. and Mrs. John Dillon, married 66 years. Mr. and Mrs. G. V. Carey, 60 years; the Rev. and Mrs. Sylvanus Frohock, 51 years. Mr. and Mrs James L. Martin, 52 years; Mr. and Mrs. James A. Shaw, 54 years; Mr. and Mrs. Manly Brackett, 50 years; and Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert W. Leonard, 54 years.

"Silver Threads Among the Gold," and "When You and I Were Young, Maggie" will be sung by the village choir, and a flock of moving picture men will be on the job.

Hilton, N. Y., Dec. 17 (A.P.).—In this quiet little hamlet eight persons today are figuring in a most unusual celebration, a quadruple golden wedding. All, save two the eight have been close friends, never wandering far from the confines of the community.

The couples are Mr. and Mrs. Andrew J. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. James N. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Mott and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Curtis. Together they represent 408 years of wedded life and 571 years of age. And the two Smith families are not related.

"JOHN III. OF FRANCE" FORCED TO WAIT FOR BOAT

Rotterdam, Holland, Dec. 17 (A.P.).—"John III. of France," better known as the Duke of Guise, Orleans Pretender to the French throne, was compelled to wait here with his son three days before finding a vessel to transport him to his estate in the Spanish area of Morocco, where he expects to spend the holidays.

The Duke was unable to traverse France and embark at Marseilles like an ordinary voyager from Belgium, because of the French law of banishment against the Pretender.

B. C. DEBATERS ARGUE TONIGHT

Boston College will present another international debate this evening at Ford Hall, on Ashburton place when representatives of the Maroon and Gold meet a team from the University of Sydney, Australia.

Ford Hall resounded with the applause of an appreciative audience less than a month ago when the local debating team defeated a trio of experienced representatives from Cambridge University, England. Since then Boston College has declared both M. I. T. and Dartmouth.

The question to be debated is "Resolved: that this house deplores the entry of women into professional and political life." The debate will be conducted according to the Oxford style, which is in vogue in Australia as well as in England.

The Sydney team comprises Syd ney H. Heathwood, John R. Goodsell and Neil D. McIntosh, while Boston College will be represented by Fred A. McDermott of Allston, John Leo Keefe of Boston and Charles A. Hayden of Wellesley.

HUB P. O. HIT BY FIRST OF XMAS MAIL RUSH

Already the time has gone for the mailing of parcel post packages for the West and South so that they may reach their destinations in time for Christmas, and now the local mail is beginning to pile up.

While Postmaster Baker hopes that the mailing public will follow the advice given in other years about mailing early, announcement is made that for the benefit of 11th-hour patrons, the use of the air mail service will prevent disappointment to many throughout the country on Christmas Day.

For instance, parcels may be mailed in Boston as late as 1 o'clock December 22 and there is every expectation that they will be delivered in Minneapolis, Kansas City, Fort Worth, Tex., Louisville and other places by Christmas morning. All such packages, however, must carry the additional postage and also MUST be mailed in the special air mail boxes. There are seven of these boxes—Arlington and Boylston streets; Gilchrist's store; South Station; North Station; 70 Federal street; Cambridge and Sudbury streets; Postoffice square and Water street, and at window 66 of the main postoffice.

All air mail for the Boston-Hartford-New York line closes at the main office at 1:45 daily, except Sunday—at the boxes a little earlier.

Hit by Companion

John Stevens, 55, of No. 102 Lawn road, Braintree, reported to the police that he was assaulted by a fellow worker while doing a painting job at the new Statler Hotel building in Park square. Stevens was injured about the face and head and required treatment at the City Hospital.

added, but since it is using every bit of its energy in a struggle for development of the national strength it cannot afford, for the sake of some abstract principle of freedom, to permit individuals or groups to retard its march upward toward the supreme goal.

FEARS NO ANTAGONIST.

"The provision effecting revocation until further order of the licenses of certain newspapers," the premier said, "must not be interpreted as a breach of principle of liberty of the press or of criticism.

"It is well that every one knows that Fascism does not fear either verbal or actual antagonists. Fascism is sure of being able to resist sifting by any criterion of criticism because no barrier of paper can check its vital progress.

"Look there," he said, pointing to a corner of his huge desk where lay a great mass of newspaper clippings. "I call that corner of my desk the poison deposit. It is a collection which my press office sends me every day of all the criticisms, calumnies and insults which daily are printed against me and Fascism in certain foreign papers.

"Now, many of these articles are sent from Rome and Milan. Where, then, is the terrible censorship of which so much is spoken in America?"

FIGHTING FOR ITALY.

"I must recognize one thing," he continued ironically. "That is, when it is a question of inventions to discredit Fascism, certain journalists give proof of an inventive power which could well be used to write a movie scenario.

"They have not as yet invented—it would be the height of absurdity and ridiculousness—that I purposely invent the attacks on my life, one after the other."

Here the Duce abruptly dropped his joking manner. Arising from his seat, he took several steps, then swung toward the interviewer and said in staccato tones:

"To resume its proper place after centuries of slavery, and to remedy the pitiful poverty of its resources, the Italian people has no time to lose. I tell you, and make it known to the whole world, that not even the last man among these 42,000,000 Italians has a single minute to lose.

HAS NO TIME TO WASTE.

"Do you believe we can stop our march at every step to bend to pick up these miserable scraps of paper which are thrown at us? Moreover these calumnies have the flat, crooked form of the boomerang, and, like that Australian weapon, finish sooner or later by returning of their own force to the feet of those who hurled them."

st his former adopted daughter's accusations and said:

"It's just a strike for easy money. Others might call it harsher names but not I.

"The sad thing is that I will have to pay out so much in attorneys' fees. You see I had planned to give out overcoats and suits of clothes to hundreds of poor boys Christmas, of course, I could still do that, but after all, these suits are going to cost a lot of good money."

Then he got back to Mary Spas and said:

"Mary, you know, says we shan't the nine room at Kew Gardens. That isn't true.

"She has the mind of a child, about an eight-year-old child. I should say. She used to sit on the floor playing with a rag doll. I mean a very handsome, expensive doll that I gave her. She acted just like a kid.

"I never thought she would do this."

"It's the man who pays, and pays and pays," said the millionaire realtor.

"If I live through this Spas suit I'll win out. But I'm tired, discouraged—with life itself.

"I did the best I could for her. She came to me as a little girl with curls down her back and said she was very poor. I was touched by here hildish sweetness.

"Later I found shew as not so young and that the whole affair was a fraud. Life has been very cruel to me."

Next he read extracts from letters he received from Mary. The first was addressed: "Mine Dear Daddy Browning," and said in part:

"I am leaving, going away to be forgotten. Please forget me. I am a good little girl. I never did anything wrong. My heart is torn never to forget. Forgive me for leaving away. I love you. You are the most honorable man on earth."

He also had letters from her parents stating that he was honorable.

All for Santa

BOY DYING

Warren Simonian, 12, of East Boston, told that Santa would not like to see him in soiled clothes, used gasoline to clean them. He was terribly burned.

BURNED USING KEROSENE AS CLEANER

A youngster, horribly burned, tosses on his bed of pain at the East Boston Relief Station today, while physicians work valiantly over the little body in the effort to save the boy until Christmas has come and gone, even if they are unable to heal the charred body wholly.

Warren Simonian, 12, of No. 333 Meridian street, East Boston, is victim of his own attempts to be "as clean and good boy" in preparation for Christmas.

The youngster had soiled his clothes with mud, and his playmates told him that Santa would not be good to him unless he was a clean little boy.

He got a can of kerosene and attempted to clean his clothing with the inflammable liquid. He lit a match (he better to see whether or not the kerosene was accomplishing anything, and in an instant the little fellow was wrapped in flame.

His father, Karl Simonian, heard the screams of his son and his frightened mates, and ran from the house in time to see the terror-stricken boy running up the street swathed in fire. He ran after the boy, shouting to him to stop, but the lad was too terrorstricken to heed.

James Perry of No. 81 Pleasant street, Charlestown, who was passing in an auto truck, jumped from the truck, snatched a butcher's meat-wrapping cloth and wound it about the boy's body.

A passing automobile took the father and son to the hospital. Doctors found that the boy had first and second degree burns of the left chest, face, arms and thighs. The father had both hands deeply burned.

The boy's name was placed on the danger list, but the latter, though seriously burned, will recover.

EX-JUSTICE CLARKE TO BE EXPRESS ARBITRATOR

New York, Dec. 17 (A.P.)—Former Justice John H. Clarke of the United States Supreme Court has accepted appointment as neutral arbitrator to consider the question of wages of 65,000 express employes, it was announced at the office of Sir H. Gwyn, vice-president of the American Railway Express Company, today.

The other arbitrators are E. A. Stedman, vice-president of the American Railway Express Company, and William B. Wilson, former Secretary of Labor. The arbitrators will take up the requests of three unions for increases ranging from 10 to 15 cents an hour. The unions are the Order of Railway Expressmen, the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks and the American Federation of Express Workers.

ADVISES POWER PLANTS IN N. E.

power [illegible] is of paramount interest," he declared. "We are all anxious to see the development of interconnection power and a common pooling of resources.

"I have a feeling that Federal regulation of power represents loading the government with functions that should not be imposed upon it, and an unwarranted extension of authority."

Secretary Hoover declared 80 per cent of transportation is interstate, while only 4 per cent of the movement of power is an interstate question at present.

"If by some device you can cover the interstate movement of power, you can also by that cover better relationship to it. Otherwise we might see the encroachment of Federal power growing and growing and becoming disastrous to our government."

Voluntary action by power companies in settling the matter of equitable rates was recommended, and in regulating conditions of exchange of power between States Secretary Hoover urged that the problem be solved by the States themselves.

"If it is impossible to arrive at a voluntary solution by any other method, there is another opportunity under the Constitution through interstate compacts.

"Treaties between States can be made and by being ratified by Congress will become laws. Thus New England can take the lead in setting up State Compacts and settling her problems and difficulties at home."

PUT OUT FIRE IN HOSPITAL

Prompt work on the part of attendants at the Boston State Hospital in Mattapan prevented the spread of a fire, caused by a careless cigarette smoker, which might have started a panic among the patients.

The cigarette stub was thrown into a pile of linen in the hospital laundry.

The laundry is in the east group of buildings, isolated from the dormitories where the patients are housed, with its rear on Morton street. Two nurses who left the west group just before 7 o'clock noticed the flames leaping up near a large window, and ran to the main office where Miss Marie Dawn, the switchboard operator, put in an emergency call to the fire department, and notified the hospital officials.

MARX CABINET IN GERMANY VOTED OUT

The Reichstag, after the vote, adjourned until January 19.

CHANGE SPECTACLE.

The vote presented the strange spectacle of the Nationalists joining the Socialists to support a motion which protested against excessive armaments.

Count Von Westarp, Nationalist leader, explained this anomaly by saying the Nationalists did not sympathize with the Socialist criticisms of the Reichswehr, but did believe that Germany needed a stable government supported by a majority in the Reichstag.

He added that the Marx Cabinet existed only with the support either of the Socialists or Nationalists, neither of which parties was represented in the Cabinet.

Among outstanding events during the Marx ministry were Germany's entrance into the League of Nations and development of a rapproachment between France and Germany.

COMPROMISE WITH KAISER.

Another was the great referendum last June on the question of the expropriation of the property of the former ruling houses of Germany. This resulted in defeat for the proposal when it did not receive a sufficiently large majority to carry. Later the problem was settled by a compromise agreement with the agents of the former Kaiser and of the other ex-ruling houses.

Charges that monarchists have been secretly at work within the ranks of the Reichwehr and have been illegally engaged in activities threatening the safety of the republic have been frequent.

FORCED OUT VON SEECKT.

One of the recent scandals was the participation of young Prince William, eldest son of the former Crown Prince, in Reichswehr manoeuvres. This led to the resignation of Major-General von Seeckt as commander-in-chief of the Reichswehr.

Minister of Defence Gessler asserted that he had not been consulted or advised of the presence of Prince William at army manoeuvres and that he consequently could not defend Von Seeckt in the Reichstag, where the matter had come up. The general resigned and was succeeded by General Heye.

Berlin, Dec. 17.—A Fascisti revolution has broken out in Lithuania.

President Kasmir Grinius and all of the members of the Lithuanian government were placed under arrest at 3 o'clock this morning by members of Fascisti organizations.

The report adds that General Smetona has taken over the government and is supported by the military forces. Martial law prevails. Colonel Grigaliunas is in command of the army.

Fascisti, under M. Smetona, carried out the coup d'etat and are in control of Kovno.

A state of siege has been declared throughout the entire country.

The coup d'etat has been bloodless, having been carried out in the early hours of the morning without any serious clashes being reported.

Popular fear of Polish aggression against Lithuania is declared to have been the cause of the coup d'etat.

Fear of aggression on the part of Poland, the dispatches say, has been at fever heat among the people since Minister of War Marshal Pilsudski is quoted as having said in a speech at Vienna that he wanted a "friendly approach" to Lithuania.

You'll instantly recognize high quality in the Fleetwood Clear True Reception, Mellow Tone and Selectivity.
In fact—a radio outfit you'll be proud to give or receive for Xmas.

The Fleetwood Laboratories examined many hundreds of radio sets before finally passing on this one. For this reason we have only just received our shipment.

This being a rush time of the year for radio manufacturers we could obtain

Only 1000 of These Sets For Delivery Before Xmas

and we certainly expect that this comparatively small quantity will not last many days.

Here's the Big Reason for This Price

The Fleetwood Laboratories is a Corporation whose function is to test all radio sets and accessories for over 30 of the largest department stores in the country. On the results of these tests, these stores sell radio merchandise of dependable quality. Directly on the result of the Fleetwood Laboratories findings many millions of dollars worth of radio apparatus is sold yearly by these stores, of which C. F. Hovey is a member store.

FLEETWOOD
FINEST RADIO PRODUCTS

We found that there is a tremendous demand on the part of the general public for a high grade radio set which could be purchased complete with high grade accessories for about $50.00 and that there are many hundreds of people desirous of owning a really dependable radio set but who do not desire to spend more than $50.00. Accordingly, we asked the Fleetwood Laboratories whether it was possible to obtain a really good radio set and equipment to sell at such a price.

Up to the present we know of no good 5-tube set which has been offered to the public for this price with such high grade accessories. It was no easy task and Hovey is proud to be able to offer this set exclusively in Boston and pleased to recommend it as an up-to-date, well-built, well-designed, well-operating tuned radio frequency receiver.

The Fleetwood Laboratories, after careful research and study, found that it was possible to design such a radio set and combing the market and securing the services of competent radio manufacturers, has passed upon this set and the accessories and has thought enough of its performance to place the Fleetwood name upon it.

All This for $49.98

1 Fleetwood 5-Tube Radio Set
5 Cunningham CX301 A Tubes
1 Rubber Case Storage Battery
2 Beacon 45 Volt B Batteries
1 Beacon No. 4½ Volt C Battery
1 Loud Speaker and Plug
1 Fleetwood Antenna Kit

You may obtain a storage battery, with charging device attached, for a small additional sum.
This set is so constructed that it may be equipped to operate with "B" Battery Eliminators without any change in the current.

LLOYD GEORGE RECAPTURES LEADERSHIP

London, Dec. 17 (A.P.)—Acceptance of the income from Lloyd George's electoral fund by the organizing committee of the Liberal Party is taken to mean that the former premier has captured control of the party machine. There is much soreness among the party members, however.

The committee voted acceptance, 19 to 14, the minority representing the adherents of Viscount Grey who has been mentioned as head of the Asquith section of the party, leaderless since the retirement of Lord Oxford and Asquith.

"We call the unity," says the Liberal Star, commenting on the committee's action, "but it isn't even near unity. We must do much better than this before we can even pretend that the Liberal Party is a homogeneous whole."

Attorney General Sir Douglas Hogg in a speech said: "Lloyd George with money gotten by selling honors in a way they were never sold before, has accumulated money which he is using to buy the Liberal party so he can sell its support to the Socialists."

The Lloyd George fund is generally stated to be about £1,000,000.

Lloyd George was under fire in 1922, while Prime Minister, regarding decorations and titles awarded in his honors list.

Subsequently, a committee of the privy council was appointed to supervise future honor lists.

20-YEAR-OLD HUSBAND SUES FOR ALIMONY

Chicago, Dec. 17 (A.P.)—A twenty-year-old husband asked an eighteen-year-old wife to pay him alimony in a suit for separate maintenance on file here.

Shortly after Gerald Jimanti had filed the suit against his wife, Isabelle, he learned that she had beaten him to it by filing a suit for divorce, charging cruelty. The suit mentioned that she made more than her husband and did not ask support.

SIMPSON FLAYS HALL JURY AS 'MUMMIES'

New York, Dec. 17.—The Hall-Mills murder case "might just as well have been tried before twelve mummies who had been dead 4,000 years" as before the twelve men who composed the jury, in the opinion of State Senator Alexander Simpson, the special prosecutor at the trial.

The fiery little senator set forth his opinions in a letter which he addressed today to Mrs. Jane Gibson or Easton "pig woman" of the case who is still seriously ill with cancer in the Jersey City Hospital, Jersey City.

JURY OF "MUMMIES."

The letter was written on a letterhead of the New Jersey State Senate under December 16 date and was addressed to "Mrs. Jane Easton." It read:

"Dear Mrs. Easton: I have been so busy with putting my affairs in shape which I neglected during the progress of the trial of Frances Hall, Henry Stevens and William Stevens I have delayed writing you.

"I think you rendered a great service to the administration of justice in the Hall-Mills case, notwithstanding that the case might just as well have been tried before twelve mummies who had been dead for 4,000 years as before the twelve men who were empowered by law to decide the case.

DID A GREAT SERVICE.

"In my opinion, the real decision has been made, or will be made by public opinion. All the evidence has been made public and, although public opinion is slow in forming, yet when it forms I am quite sure you will be regarded as a person who made great sacrifices in order to see justice properly administered.

"I trust that the good care that you are getting in the Jersey City Hospital will result in your complete recovery.

"Kindest personal regards, and wishing you a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year."

NORTHEASTERN EXTENDS CO-OPERATIVE STUDIES

Co-operative education will be adopted by Northeastern University next September. The plan has been in operation in the engineering school since 1909, and now will include the seven schools of the university, according to announcement made by Dean Turner F. Garner and Vice-President Carl S. Ell today.

Turner F. Garner

Carl S. Ell

The co-operative plan, according to Ell, offers students an opportunity to learn actual conditions in the factory, laboratory, or office, besides giving them the classroom theory.

More than 200 business firms are co-operating with the university.

Sentence Confirmed

Hartford, Ct., Dec. 17 (A.P.)—The conviction of Charles Frost, wealthy accountant, for burning the Xeluso Auto Trunk factory in Bethel, April 2, 1925, and sentenced to State Prison for from one to three years, was affirmed by the Supreme Court today.

AGITATE WATERWAYS TREATY WITH CANADA

Toledo, O., Dec. 17 (I. N. S.)—A campaign of education, having for its objective a waterways treaty with Canada, will be the principal goal sought by the Great Lakes Tidewater Association in 1927, according to discussions at the annual meeting of the organization which began here today. Representatives of 21 states are in attendance.

POLICEMAN SHOOTS FRIEND IN STATION

New York, Dec. 17 (I.N.S.)—Patrolman Thomas Reilly, attached to the Simpson Street Station in the Bronx, suddenly drew his revolver in the station house today and shot James Gibson, sixty, an attendant. Gibson was taken to a hospital in a dying condition.

Other patrolmen at the station said that Reilly was intoxicated. They were dazed by the tragedy as Reilly and Gibson were friends.

PROPOSE $50,000,000 FOR PUBLIC BUILDINGS

Washington, Dec. 17 (A.P.)—Another $50,000,000 for public buildings would be provided in a bill drafted by Representative Reed, Republican, New York and carrying the indorsement of a majority of the House Public Buildings Committee.

YOUNG PIANIST PLAYS LIKE MASTER

By MOSES SMITH

Irwin Schenkman, who gave a piano concert at Jordan Hall last night, looked like a student when he walked on the stage, but he played more like a master. This young man, who has not yet attained his majority, according to report, shuns the conventions of the concert hall, and addresses himself, instead, solely to the music.

In a program that would have taxed experienced recitalists, Mr. Schenkman displayed a talent already verging on maturity, and for one so young an extraordinarily flexible technique. Bach's Prelude and Fugue in B flat minor, Brahms' Variations and Fugue on a Theme of Handel, Schumann's "Carnival" and a group of Chopin compositions were the pieces rendered, and in this array there was ample opportunity for a performer to scale the Olympian heights of pianistic eloquence, as well as to descend to the abysmal depths that beset the inexperienced artist.

Young Schenkman fared beautifully. Sections of the Schumann received a performance of beauty, and all of it was at least given a perfunctorily good interpretation. Only on occasion did immaturity show itself, and the occasions were far fewer than might have been expected.

The pianist showed a remarkable grasp of the keyboard. He would land full force on great chords without the slightest muddiness in tone. At the opposite extreme he played an unusually clear pianissimo. And his left-hand technique, on which so many young performers fall down, was excellent. By all means Schenkman will bear watching.

DISABLED VETS TO SEE FILM

One of a series of entertainments for disabled veterans arranged by the Boston Evening American in conjunction with the Metropolitan Theatre will be staged next week at the United States Veterans' Hospital at West Roxbury and the Naval Hospital at Chelsea.

Several hundred bluejackets, bedridden at the Naval Hospital, will see Bebe Daniels' newest comedy, "Stranded in Paris," on the evening of December 23. On Christmas night the picture will be shown at the Veterans' Hospital where it will be part of a large and varied program provided for the boys.

In Vets' Series

BEBE DANIELS

Disabled veterans in the Chelsea Naval Hospital and United States Veterans Hospital at West Roxbury will see Bebe Daniels in her latest film, "Stranded in Paris." The veterans will be the guests of the Boston Evening American and the Metropolitan Theatre.

Open Every Evening Until Christmas

It is a good old custom of Timothy Smith's to keep open a few evenings before Christmas so that those who work during the day may have a suitable opportunity to do their holiday buying.

Until Christmas our store hours are from 9:30 in the morning until 10 o'clock in the evening

... all who can conveniently to shop earlier in the day ... good service to those who must shop evenings, but you will find a welcome at all times at this friendly Christmas store.

Pa and Ma Can Shop Together

Half the fun of buying presents for the children is for father and mother to pick them out together. Our store hours make this possible, pleasant and profitable. If it's inconvenient to leave the kiddies, bring them along—there's always room for one more at Timothy Smith's.

Where Christmas Money Buys the Most

It doesn't lessen Yuletide joy any to find that you can save money at every turn, for we are just as modest at Christmas time in our prices as we are the rest of the year. Customers from miles around take advantage of this fact and always find great satisfaction in doing their Christmas buying at Timothy Smith's. This year we are better prepared than ever.

A Thrilling Romance of Modern Youth in Boston

READ THIS FIRST

HONEY LOU HUNTLEY is private secretary to old "GRUMPY" WALLACK, head of the Wallack factory in Roxbury.

Everyone likes Honey Lou from ANN LUDLOW, the office vamp, to JOE MEADOWS, the shipping clerk.

Young JACK WALLACK comes to work in his father's factory. He falls in love with Honey Lou and she with him

At a party given by ANGELA ALLEN, in love with Jack Honey Lou drinks two cocktails, thinking they are fruit punch.

TIM DONEGAL, a friend of Jack's, begins to be attentive. One night when the two are at an out of town inn, with Honey Lou's half-sister, MARGRET MOODY, and DR. STEVE MAYHEW, they are joined by Angela and Jack. Margret sums Angela up as a "cat."

One night while Margret is out on her Summer vacation, her supposed sweetie, Dr. Mayhew, he begins to make love to Honey Lou. Honey Lou is astounded.

Jack is angrily jealous with Honey Lou because she let Steve come to the house in Margret's absence. The day Margret comes home, Lou and she stop at the factory to get some money. Margret overhears someone talking in "Grumpy's" office, and eavesdrops.

Jack finds Lou taking part in a Charleston contest in a picture show. He is shocked and disgusted, just as her mother is, and cannot see what a lark it is for Honey Lou.

(NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY)

CHAPTER XVII.

WHEN Honey Lou got home that night, they were all there ahead of her, waiting for her—Mrs Huntley, Margret and Steve. [illegible]

"Honey Lou, how COULD you do [illegible]" were the first words that [illegible]

[illegible] never occurred to her [illegible] Mrs. Huntley would take the [illegible]

Washington, Dec. 17 (I.N.S.)—Henry Ford [illegible] was invited by Representative Bloom (D) of New York [illegible] before a Congressional committee to explain his alleged charges that Jewish bankers control the Federal Reserve system.

"I am asking in a letter that Mr. Ford appear before a committee if it can be arranged, and give all the information he has to support his charges," Bloom said.

Bloom introduced a resolution for an investigation of the Ford charges. It has not been acted upon

WOMAN LEAPS TO SAFETY AS FIRE SWEEPS HOME

Manchester, N. H., Dec. 17 (A.P.)—Mrs. John Bossman, trapped by a fire in her home at Lincoln Park, South Hooksett, early today, made her way onto the roof and jumped to safety, her husband John Bossman, and Joseph F. Duplesse, a neighbor, catching her as she jumped.

The fire, which started in the Bossman home from an overheated chimney, destroyed the house as well as that of Duplesse, next door. A third bungalow was saved by Manchester firemen, called to aid the Hooksett department.

BIGAMIST PREFERS JAIL TO HIS NO. 1

Lita Starts Battle for Divorce From Charlie Chaplin

PRISON OR WIFE? IT'S JAIL

Lynn Man Spurns No. 1, and Wants No. 2 to Wait for Him

Convicted in Lynn Court of bigamy, Edward O. Reed, 23, Lynn garage worker, declared his preference for a year in jail rather than return to his first wife and their two children.

Sent to Salem House of Correction, Reed's last words were for his second choice, declaring that his first act on being released would be to obtain a divorce and marry her.

She was Miss Dorothy Ross, 18, daughter of Dr. Charles A. Ross, a prominent Salem dentist, who declared she married Reed after a whirlwind courtship of two weeks.

"I was one of a number of persons in an automobile who was introduced to Reed," said Miss Ross. "We began going together. He took me to theatres and dinner [illegible] He gave me presents and [illegible] Finally, he asked me to marry him and I consented. All this [illegible] inside of two weeks. It was real fine romance. We were married Aug. 27 in Grace Episcopal Church in Salem.

"We had a lovely little home on Green street, Lynn. He treated me [illegible] was employed evenings and [illegible] with me each evening until [illegible] leaving, he would kiss me [illegible] and say he was going to work at a Lynn garage, and would return the following day.

"One day a girl friend told me I had no right to use the name of Mrs. Reed. I questioned her, and she told me he had a wife and two children.

WENT TO POLICE.

"I investigated. I met Reed's wife. I told her I loved her husband and had married him. I heard her story and we went to the police station and made the complaint against him."

The two women visited Reed in Lynn police station after the trial. Wife No. 1 begged him to appeal the sentence, have the matter straightened out and go back to her.

"I'd rather go to jail than live with you," was Reed's reply.

Then the other woman approached him and took his hand. He handed her a note which read:

"I love you. I will marry you when I am free."

FULL TIME FOR U.S. COTTON SPINNERS IN ENGLAND

Manchester, Eng., Dec. 17 (A.P.)—The cotton trade today was surprised by a decision of the short-time organization committee of the Federation of Master Cotton Spinners to abandon short time in the American yarns spinning section, which has been almost continuous since 1920. The official reason given was the manner in which short time was being observed.

English spinners were operating on a 24-hour week basis until recently, when the hours were increased to 35 weekly. Several mills with large orders on hand were understood to have begun operation on full time, contrary to their agreement. Consequently, it is felt in cotton circles, the association decided to abandon short-time arrangement in fairness to all.

WINTERS HELD FOR TRIAL AS VERMONT SLAYER

Woodstock, Vt., Dec. 17 (A.P.)—John Winters today pleaded not guilty to indictments for murder and assault found against him by the Windsor county grand jury. He was remanded to jail to await trial some time after January 11. Winters, a former convict, was charged by the State with the murder of Miss Cecelia Gullivan by clubbing as she slept on the porch of her home in Windsor on November 7. He was also charged with attempting to attack Miss Bessie Panjarvis, a neighbor of Miss Gullivan. Miss Panjarvis later identified Winters as her assailant.

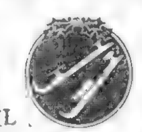
SHOP at THAYER McNEIL



EVERY Christmas, wise people in increasing numbers choose at Thayer McNeil the sort of gifts which are most genuinely appreciated. The man who receives a pair of stunning golf stockings, the woman who opens a package to find three pairs of sheer silk hosiery, or the boy who discovers boots and skates at the foot of his Christmas tree are justly elated, for they are acquiring something useful.

These are the gifts which are best chosen here, for the year around we concern ourselves with offering the best possible values in these very things. And if you have the slightest doubt as to what to give, the Thayer McNeil Gift Bond will enable the recipient to select what he or she wants after Christmas. We make it out to any amount you care to spend. You will find them at both Downtown and Uptown stores.

Ask to see the new Hosiery Chests. For one who week-ends or travels they make ideal gifts. They provide hosiery for every hour's need.

At the Hosiery Counter, you will find, also, a beautiful assortment of silk and wool scarves, and smart English Sweaters. All the latest shades are here.

GONE 18 YEARS, WIFE FINDS HER PLACE TAKEN

(Copyright, 1926, by I. N. S.)

New York, Dec. 17.—After 18 years' confinement in a sanitarium, Florence Bartis Harrison traveled the long road from the Valley of the Shadow back to complete recovery only to find that for 15 years her husband had been living with another woman as his wife and had three children by her, according to a suit on file today.

The feminine Enoch Arden will plead tomorrow before Judge Vale [illegible] in the New York Supreme Court for a separation from the man she says deserted her in her hour of need.

The man is Richard Compton Harrison, president of the White Rock Mineral Water Corporation. His wife lives in a modest flat at No. [illegible] Ocean avenue, Brooklyn.

According to the wife's complaint, Harrison was a young man when he met Florence Bartis, a school teacher. They fell in love.

WORKED FOR HIM.

For five years the little school ma'am scrimped and saved and did without everything but the bare necessities of living, she says. For five years she claims she gave 60 per cent of her earnings to her sweetheart that he might obtain a college education.

After he was graduated they married, November 1, 1905. Two years later their son was born and shortly after that Mrs. Harrison suffered a complete breakdown. Then followed the years of suffering and oblivion in the [illegible] Sanitarium, Macon, Miss.

WHAT SHE FOUND.

One year ago she was judged cured, and left the sanitarium with the happy expectation of being reunited with her husband and son.

What she found was this, according to her complaint:

Her husband had become the wealthy president of the great White Rock Company. He lived in an expensive Riverside Drive apartment. A beautiful woman was mistress of his home. The world thought this woman his wife. They had three children.

The bewildered wife obtained a position teaching in Brooklyn and communicated with her husband.

He offered her $4,000 a year to keep out of the way, her complaint states. So Florence Harrison is asking for a separation.

Harrison does not deny any of the charges made by his wife. But he is pleading for a small alimony.

FRENCH BUYERS' STRIKE DUE TO ANTICS OF FRANC

Paris, Dec. 17 (A. P.).—What amounts to a buyers' strike has been started in France. It is not an organized affair attended by the beating of publicity drums such as the one in America that put an end to the post-armistice spending spree in 1920, but it is general.

The French people have simply drawn their purse strings tight. [illegible] sales in December—despite Christmas shopping—are not expected to be more than half what October sales totalled. The sudden fall and rebound of the franc is the cause.

Church Money Stolen

Plain Truth vs. Plain Bunk in Advertising
Our advertisements are straight statements of facts—not highly colored exaggerations prepared with the purpose in mind of misleading the buying public.
Many stores advertise in a plain "bunk" manner—for example: "We have received the most extraordinary grouping of hundreds and hundreds of coats purchased from many large manufacturers for spot cash—to be sold at 50% off. Be here at 8:59 A. M. sharp to share in the most gigantic sale ever conducted in the United States, etc., etc., etc.—more bunk."
Lesley's would advertise the same sale, same merchandise at still lower prices, in the following fashion: "On Thursday of this week we start a three-day sale on coats which has every indication of being a very successful one. There are approximately 400 coats in stock which have been greatly reduced.
"The coats represent the newest styles and a complete assortment of sizes at a very low price. A typical Lesley value."
This is the difference between plain "b u n k" advertising and plain truth advertising.

Pat McCarthy Signs for Three Fights in Garden

OPPONENTS SOON TO BE SELECTED

Roxbury 'Heavy' Accepts Rickard's Offer; May Meet Winner of Maloney-Persson Go

By JACK CONWAY.

PAT McCARTHY, Roxbury heavyweight who furnished one of the biggest boxing surprises of the year when he gave Harry Persson a pasting at Hartford, has accepted terms with Tex Rickard for three matches at Madison Square Garden, New York. McCarthy's opponents will be named within a few days.

The winner of the Maloney-Persson bout, billed for December 22 in New York, Arthur DeKuh and Paolino have been mentioned as possible opponents for McCarthy.

Jack Conway

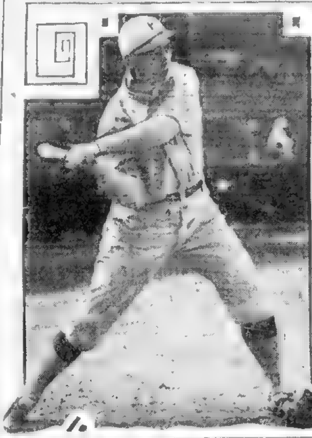
It is [illegible] that a [illegible] weight has shown to such good advantage as McCarthy did in defeating Persson. He had the Swedish heavyweight completely at his mercy and [illegible] him almost at will.

McCarthy is directing his chief drive on Jim Maloney. He is confident that he could triumph over the South Boston battler. He contends that a boxer with a good left hand like himself can always outpoint a right-hand swinger like Maloney. It is no [illegible] secret that Pat is able to [illegible] quite a right-hand sock himself. [illegible] still always remember the fight at the Arena when McCarthy floored Pal Reed four times in the first round with powerful right hand [illegible] to the jaw.

It is seldom that a boxer's victory has been as popular as was the case when McCarthy won over Persson. Pat has always been a local favorite, but somehow has not got to the position in the fistic racket which his natural ability entitled him to. In his bout with Johnny Risko at Hartford recently, Pat proved he has at last found himself. Then came his great triumph over the crafty and highly touted Persson.

JACK SHARKEY'S dislocated right thumb will prevent him from doing any training until after the first of next year. Sharkey suffered his injured while knocking Homer Smith out of the picture at Syracuse.

FOUR OF BASEBALL'S GREAT HITTERS WHO MAY HIT NEW TRAILS

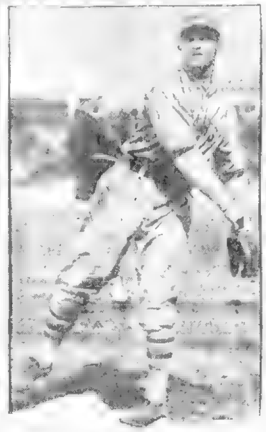


"BUTCH" HENLINE

Star catcher of the Philly Nationals who has been put on the auction block by Manager McInnis.

EDDIE COLLINS

Deposed White Sox manager still a .350 hitter, who will help some big league infield.



FRANK FRISCH

McGraw wants to trade his star infielder who was afflicted with temperament last year.

GEORGE SISLER

St. Louis claims that George will remain as first baseman, but baseball thinks A's will get him.

ONE REAL STAR FOR 3 BROWNS

Todt and Flagstead Are Mentioned; Landis Gets Raise and All Is Harmony

[illegible] 17.—One Boston [illegible] will go to [illegible] Browns in exchange [illegible] three of Dan Howley's [illegible] only real [illegible] started at the meetings of the large leagues. The [illegible] has not been completed but presidents and managers of both clubs have practically agreed on the terms. It is believed here that either [illegible] Todt will go to the western team. President Bob Quinn would neither affirm [illegible] deny a thing, and Manager Dan Howley of the Browns was [illegible].

[illegible] was the principal topic [illegible] as the magnates and [illegible] today. [illegible] pay, [illegible] on a new seven-year [illegible] and the American [illegible] denied [illegible] power. [illegible] the champ[illegible], put at rest the rumor [illegible] Hornsby would be traded, [illegible] made official when Bill [illegible] was [illegible] the Braves announced [illegible] expected to compete [illegible] first baseman as [illegible] back in Boston.

FOOTBALL PAYS AT PRINCETON

Princeton, N. J., Dec. 17 (A.P.).—Football, with a return of $157,71[illegible], was the only sport at Princeton that paid its own way in 1925-26 season.

In addition, the receipts from football paid the general expenses and the deficits of all other athletics at the school, but failed by $137,1[illegible] to meet the expense of resurfacing Palmer Memorial Stadium, the report of the Athletic Association made public yesterday showed.

Of other sports baseball had the smallest deficit, $373.03. Other deficits were: Track, $20,929.35; crew, $22,615.22; basketball, $6,079.82; hockey, $4,287.84; soccer, lacrosse, tennis, etc., $20,104.05. The athletic association also reported other expenses of $71,177.05.

Hahn Enters Fordham Univ. Games for B. A. A.

By EDDIE DONDERO

LLOYD HAHN, Boston Athletic Association's extraordinary mile runner, will make his first [illegible] before the [illegible] of New York on January 15 under the auspices of Fordham University at the 102d Engineers Armory. The announcement was made today by Thomas Kanaly, athletic director of the [illegible].

Coach Jack Ryder had originally planned to start the B. A. A. miler in the Knights of Columbus [illegible] which takes place at the 23rd Regimental Armory in Gotham on the night of January 8, but Hahn's refusal to compete on the grounds that he was not in perfect condition caused a delay in the B. A. A. program.

During the past three days the Nebraska flash has been tearing around the Boston College [illegible] at University Heights in commendable [illegible]. Today he informed Coach Ryder that he would be ready to toe the mark the second week in January. Upon learning the news Kanaly forwarded an entry blank to the Fordham College promoters, [illegible] to [illegible] the special [illegible] event.

When Hahn entered in actual competition it is expected that Ray Robertson, captain of the Unicorn Club ankers; Tom Cavanaugh, Louis Welch, Leo Lermond and John Murphy will round into shape before the new year is ushered in. Ryder warned his athletes against overtraining. Many of them were overanxious in the time trials.

Regardless of weather conditions a squad of 80 B. A. A. speed merchants respond to the gun each day. Most athletes are not able to [illegible] themselves under long after dusk sets in. During the Christmas holidays the entire squad will [illegible] in preparation for a successful campaign.

It is obvious that Athletic Director Kanaly will enter a well balanced team in each Hub meeting. The Brooklyn college games scheduled on January 22 will conflict with the K. of C. hostilities here inasmuch as both organizations are promoting the meets on the same day at the same time. Both clubs are endeavoring to enlist the best performers in the East.

The indoor classics sanctioned by the B. A. A. athletic directors for the coming season are as follows: January 8, K. of C. games at New York; 15, Fordham University games at New York; 22, K. of C. games at [illegible]

Yale to Entertain Tufts Hoopsters at 3-Day Meet

TUFTS' Varsity Basketball team will open its season in an invitation tournament at Yale University on December 28, 29 and 30. The University of Vermont, Holy Cross and Tufts have been invited to New Haven by Yale for three days competition. The opening game is Tufts pitted against Yale.

The visitors will be quartered at one of the dormitories and will take their meals at the Y Club.

Yale has arranged to entertain the teams royally during their stay. Part of the entertainment will consist of a theatre party, and a series of short talks about the fine points of basketball by the officials at the tournament. Yale announces the tournament simply as a friendly get-together with no cup or title in competition.

FEW POUNDS MAY ROB DELANEY OF TITLE

JACK DELANEY, perhaps the greatest natural fighter in the ring today, seems fated not to climb onto the heavyweight throne. Nature, which beats the best of them, is against him. Jack isn't quite heavy enough to hope to knock over all the man-mountains that clutter up the trail to the heights. He could perhaps, beat most of them, or any one of them. But the collective cleaning up looks a bit too tough for a little fellow, who isn't the most rugged bird in the world. There have been big little men who could get away with the stunt. Bob Fitz was a middleweight when he started to crown the heavies. So was Joe Wolcott. But the old timers were rugged souls, with more stamina than a car full of modern scrappers. Delaney has wonderful power, skill and courage, but his body isn't made of rubber and his bones aren't reinforced steel bars. He can lick any one living at his own weight, but he isn't constructed to give away twenty pounds and more and stay along with a good big fighter. Jack has been trying for the better part of a year to pack on poundage. He has been inhaling fat building [illegible] and living in the wide open spaces. The extra ounces do not appear, however. He [illegible] and seems to have reached the limit of his physical development. He boxed the Jamaican Kid the other night and didn't have to train especially for the [illegible]. He took the session in stride, as the football coaches put it. If he had been [illegible] announcements he would have been at absolute top weight for that one. Yet he scaled at something like 172 pounds.

Batting Sharkey or Maloney, or Tunney, Jack would be giving [illegible] pound handicap in the weights. He will have to take shots at two of the three to get an eventual chance at the big glory. And he doesn't figure to give away that much, and survive. The big chaps would [illegible] away from his wallops for a while and wear him down [illegible]. Then when he was weary, and his punch had lost its real power, they could step in and get him. At least, that's the way it dopes to the majority of experts in such matters. Born champs knock the dope bowlegged, though.

BILL DOAK, AFTER TWO YEARS OF FLORIDA REAL ESTATE, IS COMING BACK TO BASEBALL. A CURVE, WITH A REAL HOP IS MUCH MORE PROFITABLE THAN ANY NUMBER OF SUBAQUEOUS LOTS.

[illegible] knowing them all [illegible]

EDDIE CASEY WOULD BE GOOD FOR B. C.

BOSTON COLLEGE football always lasts longer than any other brand. A year ago the village was all steamed up for a month wondering whether Frank Cavanaugh would be brought back. Now the boys are speculating about the successor of the picturesque major. As we remarked some time since, we expect the Eagles to go for a graduate coaching board. Getting one lined up and signed up will naturally devour quite a little time.

Meanwhile guesses are flying around like pigeons at a granary. The latest prospective head coach mentioned is Eddie Casey, who used to play considerable football for Harvard. And Bulger Lowe, Lafayette and pro star, is nominated as his assistant.

The Eagles could do worse than to sign this pair. They know all the football there is to know. Both have coached and been successful. They are up on the modern game, and are physically and mentally equipped to handle any kind of a squad. Casey is now working at Harvard and may be the big boss there eventually. That wouldn't prevent his signing up. A good stab somewhere else might boost his cause.

Any coach who steps in where success has been a habit strikes a rough and thorny trail if fortune doesn't smile.

THE baseball dove of peace feeds on corn.

Too Many Reformers Hurting Football

By STED CHANDLER

AS the football season's doleful knell clings to the rapidly chilling breezes of approaching Winter, a powerful impulse to utter one last mouthful overwhelms the writer.

[illegible] was according to the [illegible] of our best statisticians the game's greatest year. But [illegible] the youthful enthusiasm [illegible] that football has become a [illegible] and a lot of [illegible].

[illegible]

THE process of evolution eventually produced a contest of [illegible] sex appeal so great, in fact, that huge stadia were needed to accommodate the enthused rush of most of the nation's men, women and children at the [illegible] of the game.

[illegible]

Particularly in fact, the public [illegible] As in many things American a lot of people [illegible] After all the arguing these facts stand out:

TOO much monkeying with the rules will spoil the game. A little concentrated intelligence applied to this feature would help inestimably.

Too much yelling for victory is unfortunate—not enough is nothing short of emasculation.

Poor losing is rotten sportsmanship—trying to convert clean-cut defeat into [illegible] victory is hypocrisy.

Taking all the danger out of football is [illegible] can play ping-pong for amusement. It's the risk element [illegible] built football up to its present [illegible].

We are left in a perplexing quandary. Which is worse—over [illegible] or [illegible]?

The writer is not [illegible] a hoary [illegible] veteran, but it is more than [illegible] years since he [illegible] a pigskin [illegible] had his [illegible] knocked [illegible] Battle Creek and points West. Yet it seems to him that during these past three years the football [illegible] has been [illegible] and long on [illegible] in respect to outside influences.

Excerpt From Radio Page, Boston American, December 3rd

This is the case with the 1927 Hudson Super Six. In this receiver our tests gave a very smooth and quality reproduction. Three tubes are used in the amplifier so as not to overload the transformers. Carefully matched units are evident upon examination.

Mr. Edward Rogal, formerly an instructor at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, gives as his opinion of the new 1927 six-tube the following: "The manner in which it (Hudson super six) withstood all our tests amazed us." Mr. Rogal worked a complete test upon this set. His opinion, while couched in technicalities, really means: "It is the best six-tube set of the 1927 variety."

Correct Manners

By Mrs. Cornelius Beeckman

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

1. Kindly advise me if the girl who walks with the best man is called the "bridesmaid" or "maid of honor"?

2. The bride is also going to have two other girls in the wedding party. What are they called?

G. B.

THE chief attendant of the bride, if she is unmarried, is called maid of honor. If she is married, she is called the matron of honor. The attendants of second ... are called bridesmaids.

In a well-planned wedding nowadays, the best man does not take part in either the processional or recessional. It is not good form for him to walk with the attendant of the bride. During the processional, he waits with the groom at the front of the church for the arrival of the bridal party. After the ceremony has been performed and the recessional has started down the aisle, he goes to the vestryroom where he and the groom have waited before the wedding, and after handing the clergyman's fee to the clergyman, he takes the hat and coat of the groom and hastens with them to the groom at the front of the church.

I have prepared a pamphlet on the "Wedding Processional" and one on the "Wedding Recessional," which I shall be most happy to send you if you will send me an addressed envelope.

2. Bridesmaids.

WATCH THE MAN WHO APPLIES HIMSELF TO HIS JOB

You wonder at the interest of some of your employes in the business your establishment ou cannot understand such interest in an organization in which they ave no money invested

It puzzles you that a man will give so much of himself to a business hen another has the profits

You think a man of this kind should be in business for himself

You think if you were applying yourself to an undertaking, as this nploye does, it would be only in your own business.

But haven't you noticed that it is from employes of this caliber that e promotions are made, and it is men of this kind who are oftenest und in business for themselves?

The man who takes such a lively interest in a business in which he s no actual stock is fitting himself for promotion.

If you, as an employe, are merely drifting in another man's business, ving just enough to hold the place, you are proclaiming that you do not serve promotion and will never conduct a successful business for yourlf. And saying it louder than words!

DAILY SHORT STORY

ELIZABETH'S CHOICE

By Richard G. Swarington

"HERE's what I want to show you!" Adrain's face glowed boyishly as he waved his at the . Climbing over the side of his second-hand flivver roadster, he went around and opened its one door. "The beginning of our—of my fortune." His gray eyes danced as he made the correction.

Elizabeth Lee stepped to the ground, displaying a flash of well filled stocking. She was nearly as tall as Adrain. Her eyes of almost the same tawny brown as her hair regarded their surroundings with a curiosity verging on disapproval.

It was an unusual place in which to find a young man and young woman alone. They had stopped on the side of a rocky ridge. The slope was covered with spindling pines, too small to be valuable as timber. Close below, the river had worn a narrow gorge through the ridge, and they could hear its murmurous complaint. The ridge curved around a small valley, checkered with infertile farms and ragged woodlots. No human save themselves was in sight.

Elizabeth's gaze returned to Adrain's face inquiringly.

"See it?" He gestured. "After I finished college, I bought this hill and the one across the river with the little dad left me—and precious little it was. I own the lower gateway to the valley."

"But why?" puzzled Elizabeth. What's it good for?"

"It's my bid for fortune." Then Adrain flushed eagerly as he added "When I propose, I must have something to offer you!"

"When you propose!" Elizabeth murmured. "Perhaps I ought to tell you before you go any further—"

"Because I will, you know, as soon as I can afford to marry." There was a look in Adrain's eyes which brought a lump into the girl's throat. "This land will be worth a small fortune some day."

"But, Adrain," insisted Elizabeth you must not count on ——"

"In college," Adrain went on, full of his subject, "I roomed with Dan Gordon, younger brother of Kenneth Gordon ——"

"Kenneth Gordon?" Elizabeth cried, so sharply that for a moment Adrain's attention was caught by the strangeness of her manner. Still he was too absorbed in his plans to forego telling her.

He nodded abstractedly. "Dan told me, confidentially that Kenneth had an eye on this location. Some day the Gordon Power Company will have a dam between these hills, the valley full of water and a hydro-electric plant below. But first they'll have to buy the hills from me!"

"But—Kenneth Gordon—" Elizabeth hesitated a moment. "Adrain, I suppose I should have told you sooner that Kenneth Gordon has asked me to be his wife."

Adrain stiffened slightly and stood quite still as realization rushed over him. He was silent so long that she began to wonder if she must repeat what she had said. His high color faded slowly.

"Wel——" Adrain mumbled, and paused. Then he raised his head forcing a smile. "Well, it seems I'm out of luck. Congratulations!"

He paused again, then, his head held sidewise in an attitude of listening. From among the pines below sounded voices and footsteps. Two men moved out of the woods up the slope. They were Kenneth Gordon and one of his engineers, John Starr.

Gordon saw them standing there, and paused in evident surprise. Then he came on in quickened strides. He was taller than Adrain, and perhaps twenty pounds heavier, yet he climbed with cat-like ease. His face plainly showed suspicion, fast growing into anger.

"Elizabeth," he asked sharply, "what are you doing here?"

Elizabeth's eyes widened slightly. "Why do you ask—in that tone?"

"I'm surprised," Gordon said shortly, "to find you here alone—"

"Wait, Gordon!" Adrain Burke's voice trembled passionately as he stepped in front of the other man. "Miss Lee is an old friend of mine, and I'll hear her insulted by no man—not even her fiance!"

"What's it your business?" asked Kenneth Gordon sneeringly. Yet more than this was needed to sidetrack his tenacious mind. He tried to push past Adrain. "Elizabeth you ought not be blabbing your affairs. . . ."

Again he paused, his face reddening ominously. Adrain had not been pushed aside, he was still standing his ground firmly, with narrowed eyes.

"Careful, or I'll punch your jaw!" Adrain's voice was still tremulous and a little shrill. Somewhat childishly he added: "I've been intending to sell you this hill and the one across the river but I've changed my mind. You can't have Elizabeth and my land too!"

"Your land?" Gordon stared. "Are you the one who bought it?"

"I am—and I'll see you in Halifax before I'll sell you a foot of it!"

"Look here—" Kenneth Gordon curbed his anger with an iron will. He made it a rule never to let personal animosity interfere with business. "I want to talk to you—"

"And I may as well tell you, Kenneth, that you can't have me either!" interjected Elizabeth; and moved over to Adrain's side, eyeing the other man with cold scorn. "I thought once——But all you care for is your business. Why—" her gaze shifted to Adrain, softening amazingly—"why, Adrain has risked everything he has—just for me."

MEDBURY SAYS—

By JOHN C. MEDBURY

PEOPLE in the East are taking to ice skating more than ever this Winter. One fellow says he likes it because it keeps him off his feet so much of the time.

HE'S a busy man, and it's the only chance he gets to sit down.

HE'S taken so many spills that he had to put shock absorbers on his knickerbockers.

HE found the ice so cold that he invented a pair of steam-heated trousers.

HE builds a fire in his hip pocket.

HE generally buys a suit with two sets of pants and uses the extra pair for carrying coal.

NEXT Winter he hopes to put in an oil burner.

HE was out on the rink the other day and sat down so often that a couple of people mistook him for Sitting Bull.

HE was exhausted from trying to stand up. He said he might as well have left his feet at home; he wasn't using them.

OF course, he wasn't afraid of hurting himself, because anything that's on ice can't spoil.

THERE are hundreds of schools in the East where beginners can learn to skate. Instead of ice, they teach you on banana skins.

THE only thing is, the banana has to be vacant.

IT'S no good while it's occupied.

THIS pastime is becoming more popular every day. A New York theatrical man heard a noise in his kitchen the other night and discovered a couple of midgets skating around in the ice box.

IT'S wonderful to think that people can enjoy Winter sports in your refrigerator.

HE hurried downstairs to see if anybody was holding a clambake in the furnace.

ICE skating looks difficult, but it is easy to learn. All you need is lots of time and a bottle of arnica.

VICKS VAPORUB
OVER 21 MILLION JARS USED YEARLY

THE SAYINGS OF MRS. SOLOMON

VERILY, my Son, now approacheth the season of woman's rejoicing and man's self-immolation, when he feeleth that he is brother to the TURKEY!

For, are they not BOTH offered up, a sacrifice, upon the altar of holiday cheer?

Then harken unto my counsel, that thy feet may not stumble into the pitfalls of the wily, and the snares set for the confusion of the male Christmas Shopper.

I charge thee, put not thy trust in the seductive smiles of salesladies, neither in the tongues of persuasive salesmen. For they are not there to "advise" thee but to lure and cajole thee into the paths of folly and temptation. Their mouths are filled with flattery, my Son; but their sleeves are filled with mocking laughter.

Lo, when a velvet-voiced siren adjureth thee to purchase "something useful" for the Little Woman, be not moved. For, verily, Christmas Day is the one day in all the year when a woman yearneth for something frivolous and beautiful and full of sentiment.

And a patent dish-washer will not delight the heart of a woman who dreameth of a sable scarf and an imported negligee; neither will a set of Ruskin satisfy the damsel who hath visions of a slave bangle and a quart of French perfume.

Go to. When a woman whispereth her heart's desire in thine ear, seek not to show thine "originality," by "surprising" her with something ELSE, whereof she hath never thought! For, by THAT conceit is every man tempted! But he that followeth the dotted line of her spoken wishes, and remembereth her "Santa Claus" list, shall save himself much brain-fag and many pangs.

I charge thee, my Son, whatsoever thy frugality upon three hundred and sixty-five days of the year, be not niggardly upon THIS day. For, between a pair of silk hose and a diamond vanity case, there is but one safe choice; and between a pound of chocolates and a box of orchids, but one safe decision.

Be not anxious to seek the "appropriate thing" for each and every damsel that occupyeth a little corner of thine heart. For, women, like dreams, go by contraries. And the Highbrow will not be disappointed to receive an adornment for her "beauty," nor the dumb-bell scorn a tribute to her "intelligence."

Render unto Mrs. Caesar the things which are Cleopatra's; unto Cleopatra the things which are Priscolla's; and unto Priscolla the frivolities which are Lorelei's, and thy name shall be blessed amongst women, and they shall call thee "SO thoughtful"!

Verily, Verily, unto a woman Christmas Day is the acid test of a man's love. And his Christmas offering is a SHOW-DOWN.

For a little Christmas Gift is a treacherous thing!

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action: it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent [illegible] and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist.

PRIZES ANNOUNCED FOR COLLEGE ESSAYS

Prizes for university students were announced today by Mrs. Florence Brooks-Atem, founder of the Brooks Bryce Foundation, which for three years has conducted essay contests limited to students in secondary schools. Promotion of understanding between the United States and Great Britain is the purpose of the contests. One award of 30 guineas is offered to undergraduate students at Oxford, and another of $150 to Yale students, for essays on "To what extent do the ramifications of international trade and commerce affect the political relations between the United States and the British Empire?"

MOTHER OF SEVEN MAKES PLEA FOR CHRISTMAS

ner, for we have nothing good to eat and we will be very unhappy," writes 14-year-old Thomas of Thorndike street, Roxbury, in appealing for assistance. In addition he wrote, "We don't have anything to eat now like we used to have when my sister and brother were living, but they are both now dead and the only person in our family who is working is my 17-year-old brother who doesn't make much pay.

"My oldest brother was in the war, but we don't know where he is. The experiences he went through during the war affected his mind and now he is wandering somewhere, we don't know where, so you can see it makes it very hard for us. Please don't forget us."

EASY TO BECOME ONE.

These two letters are among hundreds now on file in the office of this newspaper awaiting your telephone call or post-card, for action. It is very easy to become a Christmas Goodfellow.

If you are in the vicinity of the Boston Evening American office, No. 15 Winthrop Square, during your Christmas shopping, just drop in to say "hello" to the Christmas Goodfellow Editor and before you leave he will give you the name and address of a really needy family for you to include in your Christmas celebration.

Or, just pick up your telephone receiver and call Liberty 4000, and inside of a few minutes the name and address of a destitute family, with detailed information as to what is most needed, will be given you. If you don't wish to do it in either of these two ways, merely drop a postal card to the Goodfellow Editor and you will have a reply in return mail. Nothing hard about that, is there? Very well, let me hear from you without delay and we will place you on the road to happiness, for happiness surely will come to you from aiding a family containing several little kiddies, less fortunate than yourself. Golden deeds of this character pay big dividends. If there is any doubt in your mind about it, just try it once and you will be a Christmas Goodfellow for the rest of your life.

WILL SERVE AS AGENT.

If you are too busy to care for a family in person, the Christmas Goodfellow Editor will take pleasure in serving as your agent if you contribute to the Christmas Goodfellow Fund, which is the other feature of this laudable movement. Every cent of your contribution will be used exclusively in the purchase of the necessities of life for distribution at Christmas to impoverished families.

There will be no shrinkage in your dollar from the time it leaves your pocket until it reaches the recipient, as all expenses of this undertaking are borne by the Boston Evening American. Not only that, but we take pride in saying that the circumstances of the families we extend a helping hand to are carefully inquired into, in order that only the worthy may be aided. In other words, we guarantee the worthiness of all families whether you desire to aid them directly or have us serve as your agent.

Cadets of the Junior Nautical Training School, of which Henry J. Ackroyd is commander, have been elected Christmas Goodfellows as a result of the presentation of a check for $101.31 to the Goodfellow Fund. This check represents a collection taken by the cadets among themselves.

BENTON SENDS $10.

Attorney-General J. R. Benton, has been elected a Christmas Goodfellow, having contributed $10 to the fund. He writes as follows:

"I am very pleased to send you herewith my check for $10, this contribution being made to your Christmas Fund in memory of my father, Everett Chamberlain Benton."

Two more Christmas Goodfellows are Mr. and Mrs. Francis E. McCarthy, who jointly signed the following letter:

"Enclosed please find check for $10 to add to your Fund, founded to furnish cheer and goodwill to the needy. I am sure you can find someone of your many that this small amount will really furnish reminder that we, in our happiness, do not forget others."

Another Christmas Goodfellow is "C. M. C." of Chipman street, Medford, who writes as follows:

"I am sending you $2 and wish I was able to send more. I have never given much at Christmas time because I have never had it to give, but the Lord has been good to me this year as I have had steady work. What I give isn't much, but every little bit helps.

"I am a constant reader of the Boston Evening American and Advertiser and I am always pleased to see all you do to help the needy. I hope this little mite will help to buy a dinner for some poor family."

Don't forget, ladies, that ten per cent. of whatever you spend in any of the three beauty salons of Joseph Russo this week will be given by the proprietor to the Christmas Goodfellow Fund for the purpose of spreading good cheer to the needy next week. These salons are located at No. 110 Tremont street, Boston, No. 1437 Beacon street, Brookline and No. 25 Central square, Lynn. They are among the most up-to-date in Greater Boston.

A whist party will be conducted by Mrs. Alice Heindl of Dover in behalf of the Christmas Goodfellow Fund, in Stevens Hall, Needham Centre, next Tuesday evening. Mrs Cora Keeman of Newton Lower Falls and Mrs. Edward Carr of Needham are both assisting Mrs. Heindl in collecting clothes, toys, etc., for the needy at Christmas, as well as helping her to make the whist party a financial success. Net proceeds from this party will be spent solely for necessities of life for impoverished families at Christmas.

IN BEHALF OF SISTER.

A kind woman bearing another's burden from Beacon street, Somerville, writes:

"I am writing you in behalf of my sister's little children. I have been caring for three of them for a year, my sister having met with a fatal burning accident, leaving eight children. It was too great a task for their father, whose health is too poor to care for all of them. I am doing the best I can to help him, but I worry about them. Their shoes and underwear are thin and they need rubbers and mittens. I manage to make over anything I get for them, but it takes a great deal to keep them, for they are husky and play outdoors, so, needless to say, I am struggling along, and anything I could get for them would be appreciated very much. Their ages are five, seven and nine and they wear eight, twelve and size one shoes, and they are in great need of them. If only they could have a few toys they would be so happy. I will be thankful for anything."

A worried little girl named Eleanor, from Charlestown, writes:—

"I am a girl of 14. My father has been in the hospital for one year and four months, and my mother is sick in bed, and I have been ill, too. There are five children, and a boy sick from infantile paralysis.

"We didn't have any Thanksgiving dinner, so I want to surprise mamma, and I am asking you to help me get a Christmas dinner. I didn't know who to write to, or what to do, so I thought I would write to you, dear Editor, to see if you could help me a little bit. We need clothing and shoes, but whatever you can do we will appreciate, and be so glad to make mamma happy."

The prize-winning contest which was to have been one of the features of the Christmas Goodfellow Fund Benefit at Winter Garden Ballroom, City Square, Charlestown, under direction of James J. Doherty, will take place in the same ballroom next Tuesday evening, at which time a silver bowl valued at $40 will be presented to the winning couple. Other prizes will be offered. Mr. Doherty plans to have many leading members of the theatrical profession in attendance.

SENDS IN $249

With additional returns to be made, Claudia Campbell of Commonwealth avenue, Allston, has sent a check for $249 to the Christmas Goodfellow Fund, which represents a part of the proceeds of her brilliant bridge whist and dancing party conducted in the beautiful crystal ballroom of Hotel Kenmore.

Among recent contributions to the Christmas Goodfellow Fund are the following: Mr. and Mrs. Francis E. McCarthy, $10; Frederick J. Volkman, $5; Alfred Akeroyd, $20; Jay R. Benton, Attorney-General, $10; a Dorchesterite, $2; Old Timer, $2; E. and G. C., $1; a Friend, $3; A. Feldman, $5; M. L. M., $10; Mrs. John Malone, Ashland, Me., $1; Edward C. Warnsman, $5; A. R., $1; a Friend, $1; Mrs. Fred J. Proctor, $2; C. M. P., Medford, $2; James J. Coughlin & Sons, $10; City of Boston Employes Protective Association, $10; Mrs. Laura M. Phaneuf, $2; Emma S. Dickey, $1; Mrs. R. D. Jordan, $2; C. M. Robbins Company, $5; Emma Oakes Crosby, $5; Buddy and Girlie, $2.

Other recent contributions came from the following: J. P. K., $2; Tom and Dick, $5; E. F., $5; J. R. Miyakawa, $1; Herman A. McDonald, $2.50; Sarah M. Leavitt, $5; Stanton St., $2; J. K. J., Waltham, $10; W. J. M., $3; Claire Grace, $1; Mrs. Mary B. Falconer, $1; a Friend, $2.

Here's Just How You May Join Order of Goodfellows

Q.—Does the person who joins the Goodfellow Christmas movement assume any obligations?

A.—Only the obligations that go with being a Goodfellow.

Q.—And what are they?

A.—You see these letters here; the Goodfellow will be given the name and address of some poor family with a story to tell like these; he will be given the opportunity to supply the Christmas wants of these poor people, especially those of the little children.

Q.—But what if I cannot spare the time, and yet truly desire to help?

A.—In that case, The Boston Evening American will be glad to act as your agent. Telephone Liberty 4000; ask for "Mr. Goodfellow."

LARGEST SHIP HAWSERS ARE 1,200 FEET LONG

The largest ship hawsers ever seen on the waterfront of Boston are on their way to Harry Miller of Central wharf. They are so large that an automobile freight car with enlarged doors had to be used instead of the ordinary freight car.

In marine circles the ordinary hawser is from five to 10 inches in circumference, weighing from 900 to 3,600 pounds. The hawsers on their way to Miller are 1,200 feet long, 15 inches in circumference and weigh 4½ tons.

Miller has never known any man on the Boston waterfront to possess two lines of this size. The agents in Boston of the Plymouth Cordage Company, one of the largest rope-manufacturing concerns in the world, have never had a call for such a line.

WIND UP SUCCESSFUL PALESTINE APPEAL

Jacob Rabinovitz, Boston philanthropist, who relinquished his duties as the vice-president of a large chain grocery store system, of which Joseph Rabinovitz is president, for one month to take up the chairmanship of the United Palestine Appeal during that period, returned to his business after the most successful campaign in the history of Boston Zionist endeavors.

He told his Zionist campaign workers that he would continue his interest in the wind-up details of the campaign.

No Excuse This Time

Nothing but Inexcusable Politics Will Now Stop the Boulder Dam Project

President Coolidge tells Congress to pass the legislation recommended by Secretary Hoover and Secretary Work for the Colorado River:

"The great projects of extension of the Mississippi and the protection and development of the Colorado River . . . I favor the necessary legislation to expedite these projects."

Everybody knows what it will mean to give the Mississippi the depth necessary for modern navigation. The Colorado problem is less well known.

1—The Colorado River, a raging torrent when the snows melt, flows to the sea past the rim of a great saucer, the Imperial Valley of California, two hundred and fifty feet below sea level and still further below the river bed. Earthen dykes are all that stand between destruction and the sixty-five thousand inhabitants of the valley and their one hundred million dollars of property, created out of the rainless desert.

2—The "legislation" which the President wants "expedited" is the Swing-Johnson bill, authorizing the government to build a 550-foot dam in the Colorado at Boulder Canyon, just below Grand Canyon. Its huge reservoir will store the river's floods, protecting Imperial Valley and holding water to irrigate an additional half million acres—another Imperial Valley.

3—Today the irrigation canal from the river to the Imperial Valley runs sixty miles through Mexico—that was the easiest grade to follow. Owners of Mexican lands take as much water as they need out of this canal. Imperial Valley gets the "leavings." The Swing-Johnson bill provides a new all-American canal, entirely on our own soil, to give our lands the first call on the water stored at Boulder Dam—which is proper. Mexican lands will then get the "leavings."

4—Los Angeles and the rest of southern California are nearing the end of their water supply, limited by the snows melting on the eastern slope of the Sierras. These cities are going to pump the stored Colorado waters across the California desert and over the San Bernardino Mountains, the most daring aqueduct in the world, making it possible for seven million more people to live in southern California.

5—The great height of Boulder Dam will allow the generation of 550,000-horsepower of electrical energy—as much as we get from Niagara. The city of Los Angeles and private power companies stand ready to obligate themselves for all this energy at a price profitable to the government. Cheap power is especially needed to run the pumps that irrigate the marvelous California fruit orchards.

6—The bill forbids the government to build the dam until it has in its hand contracts for power, which will make the project self-supporting, not costing the taxpayers a cent.

Boulder Dam is desperately needed by Americans in the West who are willing to pay for it.

Its engineering features and its economic benefits are established.

The President is for it. Secretary Hoover is for it. Secretary Work is for it.

Chairman McNary of the Senate Irrigation Committee is for it, and his committee has reported in its favor. Representative Addison T. Smith, chairman of the House Irrigation Committee, is for it and his committee has voted to report on it promptly.

The Senate Steering Committee has promised to set the bill for vote in January.

No excuse but inexcusable politics will explain the failure of the Boulder Dam bill at this session of Congress.

Where Lincoln Stopped

Passing of the Massasoit Hotel.

The Massasoit Hotel at Springfield, which checked out its last guest a few mornings since and joined the long list of taverns which once were but are no more, ranked a generation or more ago with the Preble of Portland, the Bangor of Bangor, the Van Ness of Burlington, the Bay State of Worcester and the Narragansett of Providence as among the best and most famous in New England.

Opened in 1843, the yellowing registers of this ancient inn bore the signatures of Abraham Lincoln, U. S. Grant, Jenny Lind, Daniel Webster, Charles Dickens, Wendell Phillips, Stephen A. Douglas, Edward Everett, General Sherman, General McClellan and scores of other celebrities.

General Washington, who sampled the bed and board of about all the New England taverns of his day, never saw the Massasoit, but did write approvingly of another Springfield hotel, which passed out ages ago. "General Shepherd, Mr. Lyman and many other Gentlemen sat an hour or two with me in the evening at Parsons' Tavern, where I lodged and which is a good House," he wrote in his diary under date of October 21, 1789. Parsons' stood next to the meeting-house, in Court Square. Washington drank "flip" there, a beverage MUCH more potent than any allowed by the Volstead Act.

Why Martin Chapin selected the name of Massasoit for his hotel it is difficult to say, for this was Agawam territory, while Massasoit was of the Wampanoags, his dominion extending from Cape Cod to Narragansett Bay. The name will survive, however, as that of the million-dollar Marcus Loew theatre which will replace the old hotel.

Springfield is and always has been a "good" hotel town. The chief city of Western Massachusetts, it has four or five houses much better than the old Massasoit could have been at its best. At least one of them, it is true, collects a "service" tax on a reversed or "collect" telephone call to Boston, but that, after all, is a small matter which has no proper place in this chronicle.

Abounding Chances

Twenty years ago a penniless immigrant, Benjamin Winter has just made $1,000,000 profit on one up-town New York realty sale.

Opportunities? Bless you, America is full of them for those with the vision and courage to dare.

They're getting bigger and better every day.

Making Progress

The famous Lawrence portrait, "Pinkie," recently purchased by Sir Joseph Duveen for $338,800 and one day to be exhibited in America, measures 2,286 square inches, making the price nearly $150 an inch.

Art, in a pecuniary sense, is evidently inching up on prize fighting.

HELP BOYS TO FIND THE RIGHT GANG

By DR. FRANK CRANE

MOST boys are more easily handled by Wholesale than Retail.

Of all the clannish creatures in time and space, the boy is probably the most clannish. The Assassins of the Orient, the McCanns of Scotland, the Nihilists of Russia, or the Chinese White Wolves are no more devoted to their fellowcrafts than the boy to his gang.

About a certain age the boy-bud begins to separate from his parent-stem.

Up till now he has had no individuality; it has been merged into the family. He has thought, believed, and acted as his brothers and sisters.

But there comes that day when he returns from his play, and it seems as if he were a new personality. He is changed. His mother is nonplussed. Grandma wants to know "whatever had come over the child." The pious aunt is shocked

The cause is that the boy made a new discovery. He has found a friend. It is almost as shatteringly wonderful when a boy experiences his first comradeship as when he falls in love.

The parents cannot understand it. He seems to worship that Kelly boy. He talks like him, gestures like him, almost looks like him.

It is a wise parent that is careful to select the child "gang." It is almost as important as his family. For the gang instinct is very strong.

Boys that lie and steal elsewhere will be loyal to the gang. The gang-morals and gang-ideals are more binding on him than anything that teacher and Sunday school can supply.

For this reason boy-gangs should be selected carefully and encouraged. A week's tramp with a decent lot of Boy Scouts will do more good than a year's parental advice.

Do not imagine that you can repress the gang instinct in your boy. It is nature's calling. It is for you, as your boy's best friend, to help him find the right gang. For it is truer of him than of any of us grown-ups, that the best and the worst of the individual is the company he plays with.

ODDS AND ENDS OF THE TOWN

SPEED

THE quickest session ever held by the executive committee of the CITY COUNCIL took place at a recent meeting. There was but one item to be discussed. It took but one minute. Two minutes after the committee adjourned they were again in open session. The entire meeting occupied but forty minutes.

YEARNS FOR FICTION

MAJOR WALTON A. GREEN, who spent an adventuresome year as chief UNITED STATES prohibition investigator, wanted to know all about the gang in NEWSPAPER ROW when he breezed into BOSTON. The MAJOR was as jaunty as ever and in splendid physical trim. He hasn't changed a hair since he piloted the old BOSTON JOURNAL. He said he never prepares addresses on prohibition, preferring questions from his audience.

"Rapid fire questions stimulate me," added the MAJOR. "And a wet toastmaster serves at the very pace-maker in discussing the dry law. I'm a prohibitionist at heart, but the way things are run is deplorable. There's nothing worse than a dry nut, unless it's a wet nut. Never met so many drunks. I'm fed up on prohibition. I'm eager to return to fiction writing. Yes, the dry hunt furnished plots, loads of them, and characters, too."

Music, Great Is Thy Power!

Sickness, Faith and Face Lifting

HERE IS A YOUNG LADY HAVING HER FACE LIFTED. MUSIC INSTEAD OF CHLOROFORM SOOTHES HER PAIN.

Great is the power of music. It "soothes the savage breast," puts us to sleep, wakes us up gently; it is a stimulant without disagreeable aftermath.

It lured sailors to their doom in the open sea, when the sirens with beautiful faces and the feet of birds sang their songs across the waters. You remember what Ulysses did. He WANTED to hear the singing, he DIDN'T want the sirens to get him. He stuffed up the ears of his sailors with wax so they couldn't hear the tunes, had himself tied to the mast, and then listened.

A wise man would have said: "I won't go near them," but Ulysses was accustomed to trouble.

Music made the walls of the city fall down, with the assistance of the Lord, of course; when the children of Israel marched around and blew their horns.

Here you see a new use for music, a lady having her face lifted—unpleasant and painful operation. She has a weak heart, is afraid to take any anaesthetic to make her unconscious. So a musician plays on the violin, the sweet notes of, perhaps, "O Belle Nuit! O Nuit d'Amour!"

Gentle music makes her forget that the surgeon is cutting into her skin, poor, foolish woman that she is, putting paraffin underneath it, and seeking, in the words of Racine's powerful poem about the dream of Athalia, "Reparer des ans l'irreparable outrage," which means "To repair of the years the irreparable outrage."

The lady having her face lifted may get a sort of Madame Tussaud, DEAD, expression on her face. She cannot wipe out the years.

Interesting in this is the musician playing to make the lady forget pain.

Similarly in Hollywood you see the actresses producing their immortal work for the moving picture screen, and as they roll their eyes and beautifully twist their faces, legs and arms, and show passion, a man pounds out nice music on a tiny piano that you can carry around with you, while a couple of others play on the violin.

Many things are neglected. We understand music a little. Perfume we understand not at all, and as for taste, in these bootleg days of bad cooking, we hardly know it.

LISTEN, WORLD!

By ELSIE ROBINSON

BE PROUD!

Not because of your beauty if you happen to be beautiful. You had nothing to do with the making of your beauty. It is no credit to you if you have a well shaped nose, a dainty ankle, a lovely throat. You did not make the machine which houses you, then why should you be proud of it?

Nor should you be proud of your mind. You had as little to do with making your keen mind as you had to do with making your excellent body. You inherited your mental equipment as you did your bodily equipment. You may deserve some credit for the things you have done with that mind. But, after all, the things you haven't done with your mind so far outnumbers the things that you have done, that you should feel deep humility rather than pride. It's a very shallow mind that takes pride in its own excellence.

Nor Social Position.

Nor should you be proud of success. Success, in this muddled world, is a very doubtful thing. Maybe you fully deserved that success, but the chances are that it was built on the failures of other men, on the fads or fluctuations of the market, on chances and accidents and conditions with which you had nothing to do. So why put laurels on your brow because of it? Moreover, although you may have succeeded in a certain particular, think of the aspects of life in which you are a total failure? Think of the things you can't do—

Do not be proud of your social position. Social position is no more valuable than another social position. They are mere frameworks for life. It is not the frame which counts. It is the use to which you put that framework. You deserve no credit because you have three servants or a membership in the best golf club or a house on the best avenue or an office in the best building. These things of themselves, mean nothing at all. It is as silly for a human being to roast that he possesses such houses as it would be for the frog to boast that he sits under a de luxe toadstool. Such things are simply furniture, and nearly always, they are cumbersome, obstructive furniture. The vital fact is not what sort of furniture you possess, but how you possess yourself in that furniture.

A Part of God.

There is no occasion in any of these things for pride. Neither in beauty, nor wit, nor charm, nor skill, nor luck, nor position, nor health, nor prosperity. Not even in happiness. Or goodness. There is only one thing of which you have any right to be proud, and you have a right to be proud of that whether you are rich or poor, beautiful or ugly, good or bad, bright or stupid, a failure or a success. You can be proud of what you ARE.

What ARE you?

Not a failure nor a success. Not a beauty nor a wit. Or a saint or a sinner. All these things are but the surface veneer on what you really ARE.

You ARE a part of God.

A great philosopher once said this: "You are a distinct portion of the essence of God and contain a certain part of Him in yourself. Why, then, are you so ignorant of your noble birth? Why do you not consider from whence you came? Why do you not remember, when you are eating, who you are who eat, and whom you feed? When you are in the company of women, when you are conversing, who you are exercising, when you are disputing, do not you know that it is a god you feed, a god you exercise? YOU CARRY A GOD ABOUT WITH YOU, WRETCH," AND KNOW NOTHING OF IT. Do you suppose I mean some god without you, of gold or silver? It is within yourself you carry him and profane him, without being sensible of it, by impure thought and unclean actions. If even the image of God Himself is within you and hears and sees all, are not you ashamed to think and act thus, insensible to your own nature and hateful to God? . . . If God had committed some orphan to your charge would you have been thus careless of him? He hath delivered yourself to your care and says, 'I had no one fitter to be trusted than you; preserve this person for me, such as he is by nature, modest, faithful, sublime, unterrified, dispassionate, tranquil.' And will you not preserve him?"

The man who said that lived long ago. He was not a Christian. He was a Greek named Epictetus, but he had seen a glimpse of the eternal God who always has been and always will be.

That God is in you now—

Be proud!
